

Owner's Engineering Services

RWE has a wealth of expertise in delivering world class power projects both for own and international client projects. When appointed as Owner's Engineer we help our clients avoiding design errors and keeping the project on schedule.

Our responsibility in this role usually comprises design reviews of contractors' work, procurement, tendering and bid evaluation assistance, contract reviews, equipment inspections, site supervision, commissioning and testing.

Depending on your needs we can serve you in large or small and long or short duration projects. Being a full-scale, start-to-finish extension of your staff, we will assist you in all aspects of project development, execution and completion. Also, when you are looking for individual specialists, serving as technical reviewer in retrofits, plant renovations or other single assignments, we are the perfect partner. In addition we have various assignments where we fill gaps in resources and expertise for a project.

Either way, we certainly act as independent voice fully committed to represent our clients objectives.

Your Benefits
